Successful projects for a range of clients

Our focus is on exploitable application of analysis

- We provide distinctive, independent advice, analysis and support to clients who operate in the national and transnational defence and security domains
- Our specialism is decision-making in dynamic conditions of risk and uncertainty – especially in integrated C2 contexts
- Our research methodology is interdisciplinary and our focus on exploitable application in both concept and practice spaces

Innovative and blended wargaming approaches

- Manual wargaming as a complementary and mutually supporting tool to synthetic and simulated approaches
- Close collaboration with clients to understand their operating environment, aims and objectives: the knowledge, experience and soft skills to act as a customer friend
- Evaluation and exploitation planned from the beginning, linking research to practice, doctrine, policy and strategy
- Battle Staff Coaching on Course of Action wargaming for SJFHQ Group, Maritime Battle Staff, Joint Force Air Component HQ
- Space Wargame: design, develop and present a manual wargame system to illustrate and develop awareness of the operational issues of space in a military context
- Land Warfare Centre wargames: designing and delivering four wargames from now to Apr 20 on deep manoeuvre, rear area security, military deception and CBRN
- Information Advantage wargame in partnership with University planned for Q1 2020

A tailored approach to achieve positive outcomes

- Maximising Exploitability. Unique 'pracademic' cadre able to ensure/assure operational relevance of research. We transverse industry, academia, military (in all its dialects including intelligence, planning, C2, ROE and targeting, Joint Effects, Joint Action and Logistics)
- Stakeholder engagement. Well connected, well known and ability to engage productively across defence and security stakeholders
- Red Teaming and Alternative Thinking. Used by DCDC and others to cast a critical eye over doctrine, concepts and emerging thinking
- Human-in-the-loop decision-making. Significant experience and credibility in the benefits and limitations of technology-enabled decision making at both Command and Staff level
- Imagining the Future Operating Environment. Sought-after thought leaders/speakers on the impact of the emerging/future operating environment on C2 and decision-making
